Howdy's Story

This is the story of how Howdy da Clown came to be. It was the year 1995, I was a junior in high school. I met my neighbors brother a former Ringling Brothers clown Skobo the Clown. He let me come watch one of his birthday parties and also go with him to Primary Children's Hospital to put on show for the kids. Then he gave me a basic video on balloons. From there I was hooked. I wanted more. That summer between my junior and senior year I got busy as a manager for a lots of my high school sports and forgot about the whole thing. Then after high school I served a mission for the L.D.S Church where I then would be able to do some light ballooning with the kids in my areas. I moved home in May 2001 and got busy in college and work I forgot all about the whole thing again. It would not be till 2004 that I would then rekindle my love for this art of clowning. I won a contest at work dressed as a rodeo clown. There would be several instances that followed. At this point my mom and one of my sisters were putting on my makeup. In 2004 I attended the Days of 47 parade. I told the person that I was with that some day I would be in the parade dressed as a clown just you watch. It would not be till 2005 that I would contact Hugo to find out if I could be in the parade that year. I was immediately approved and was then let in to the kid's parade and then a week later the grand parade the Days of 47. The next year I moved away to live in Wyoming and work. It would not be till the spring of 2006 that I was introduced to Sharon (AKA) Buttons and said help I really want to be a clown. She then suggested that I attend the first Utah Jesters Clown College. I went and had a . I met so many cool people that I have grown to love. It was all down hill from there. I have been clowning ever since and have enjoyed every minute of it.

What did the chocolate syrup say to the ice cream? "I'm sweet on you!"

What did the French chef give his wife for Valentine's Day? A hug and a quiche!
