Spotlight on Newsy

Here we go about 15 years almost 16 years back into the future when Newsy came to life. It all started when I began work for a big corporation know as Kmart. I was a garden shop associate and was in process of graduating High School.....I was on break and cruising the store when the Assistant Store Manager Jerry "Timothy" Olson came up to me and asked me what I wanted to do after high school...I explained that I wanted to go into entertainment of some sort....I went about my business and was hauling Steer manure in bags from outside to inside when I turned around and he approached me again and asked if I ever thought of Clowning.....At the moment I never did and thought this would be an excellent time to butter up..kiss up or what ever you call it....I said that would be interesting...Immediately he got me to go the Utah-Hatu Clown Alley there I met Hugo, Queenie, Carol and Myron Jack among other good people who I now call my friends.

My first meeting I won tickets to the combine alley picnic which was being catered. I had to become a member....Yahoo.....I became really interested and wanted a clown that would teach people and kids something, that I can not do....I was somewhat introverted, would not stand up for myself and really wanted that to be the focus to teach kids that if they believe in something and want it really bad to go and set goals and get it. Thus Newsy was born after the movie Newsie's. Newsy was intended to be an Auguste clown and decided to be a white. I was unable to get the Auguste right. I guess Newsy was determined to be an white face Auguste clown.

Before I left on my mission, I was told Newsy could not come.....hmmmmm Right....I knew there would be a time and a place for Newsy to come to the mission field.....During my mission I was prompted to ask my parent to send my costume with a friend who was visiting some relatives in Colorado.

Newsy help several people in my mission and also got his picture taken with the mission president and other people...Newsy also help people to look at there problems and realize that no matter what there is out there they are minor items and to look at positive things.

After a while I picked up on the things that Newsy was teaching and have become my own clown in life. Newsy flirts with all the people and play cards and which he has the upper hand on things, Newsy is confident and never lets anything slide that does not appear to be just.

as been 15 years since Newsy was born or created and I have never regretted creating Newsy....There has been times that I have thought of shelving Newsy and that thought goes away.

I look into the future and look at stories that come and I know Newsy has more adventures waiting for him to come.....
